This is to inform you that Endura SpA is planning to organize a collaborative trial on a method for piperonyl butoxide.

Principle. The content of piperonyl butoxide is determined by capillary gas chromatography (column coated with crosslinked 100% dimethyl polysiloxane, e.g. HP-1, 25 m x 0.32 mm (i.d.), 0.52 µm film thickness) using split injection, flame ionisation detection and dibutyl phthalate as internal standard.

Scope. It is intended to analyze three samples consisting of three technical materials. Samples, internal standard and piperonyl butoxide analytical standard will be supplied.

Time schedule. The collaborative trial is intended to be carried out during December 2010 – March 2011.
